I am a developer with experience in working for startups, with a strong focus on building innovative web applications. I've worked primarily as a front-end developer, but I also held other roles, working in many fields with various languages and frameworks. I work and communicate well as part of a team and I'm flexible on my roles and responsibilities.

Critical Adventures is a start-up that develops tools and services for tabletop and RPG games to make them playable on mobile platforms.

Throughout my work at Critical Adventures, I achieved the following:

- Prevented issues related to database growth and degraded server performance by refactoring how websocket connections were used (MongoDB - Socket.IO - NodeJS)
- A strong growth of active users together with an improved engagement with the in-app content by enhancing and maintaining the front-end of core components (Ionic - Angular)
- A significant increase in subscriptions and in-app purchases by expanding the range of buyable items and allowing cosmetic skins on the users' shared content (NodeJS - RxJS)
- Enhanced app ratings and reviews using end-users feedback to build and maintain their most desired features

EDUCATION

Bachelor in Computer Science and Engineering | Alma Mater Studiorum, University of Bologna
